FACILITATOR: Good morning,
everybody, welcome. My name is Patrick Field, and I'm with the consulting team and just moderating this morning's public comment
session.

I first want to introduce Jamie MacAlister. She's the project manager for the DEIS and EIS. She works for the State of Minnesota for the Department of Commerce, and she's going to share with us a little bit about the process and the way forward and then we'll go to public comment.

MS. JAMIE MACALISTER: Good morning, everyone. I hope everyone has had a chance to go around the room, talk with the agency and staff that we have here.

We have folks from the Pollution Control Agency, the Department of National Resources, Commerce staff, Public Utilities Commission, if you have questions that you need to discuss with them.

We assume you came here to give us some information on the Draft Environmental Impact Statement.

As you know, the Minnesota

Public Utilities Commission will be the body that makes the decision on this project, and they have two decisions that they need to make.

They have to first determine whether or not to issue a Certificate of Need for this project, and then they must determine whether or not to issue a route permit, and if they issue the route permit, where should the route be located.

Many of you have been following this process for quite some time. We were here last spring scoping for the Draft Environmental Impact Statement. All of the comments that you provided last year, and in some cases the year before, helped inform the scope of this document.

We are now in the Draft EIS comment period phase. The comments that we receive while we're out at these meetings will help us finalize the final EIS, and once that document is final, the whole process moves over to the administrative law judge and the Public Utilities Commission for the contested case hearings that will be coming up in the fall and then the decision on this project in the spring of 2018.

So this morning we're hoping that you are going to give us comments on the Draft EIS. Specifically we're interested in whether or not there is information that is missing, if the document is not clear, or if there are other areas in the document that we can improve upon for the final.

So today, just a note on the comments. You can provide your comments orally here. You can submit them in writing here. You can also submit them to me via email or regular mail so long as they are postmarked by July 10 of 2017.

We will be looking at your comments and reviewing them for the Final EIS.

And a final note on comments, we want you to know that your comments are treated equally whether or not they're given to us orally or in writing. It doesn't matter if we have hundreds of comments for a project or hundreds of comments against a project, each comment is treated individually.

This is not a vote. Your time to advocate for the project or a route is during the contested case hearings. So that will be the time for you to let the judge and the Public Utilities Commission know if you're for or against this project.

The comments that we're looking for really are on the Draft EIS.

So with that, I'm going to turn this back over to Pat and he's going to give you a little bit more information before we move into the comment portion of this meeting.

FACILITATOR: Thanks, Jamie.

Leslie is going to be our mic runner. So we will bring the mic to you, if you want to make a public comment. We have a great court reporter here who will be capturing your every word.

The key to that is when you get the mic, speak into it like this because that's the way the mic works best.

When you start, just state your name and actually spell it for the court reporter so we have it for the record.

So just a few things about the comments. We want to make sure when a person comments, everybody listens, and they have their chance to say their piece. So we do ask that other people listen when that commenter speaks, if you can.

At the end if you want to do affirmation, that's fine. We do ask that people not be negative about people's comments.

We have a small group so we're not going to worry very much about time limits. We do have kind of a timer we can put up for people just to give a sense of how long they're going, so we will go ahead and run that this morning to be fair across these meetings.

Probably at six or seven minutes you probably covered a lot of what you want to say. So I might give people a little reminder if it goes much more beyond that.

We do ask that -- people have a range of views which is totally fine. If we would be respectful of each other's differences, so we ask that you not direct specific comments to an individual in the room or a comment to organizations, agencies, about the issues, about the EIS, about the project.

That's all fair game, but please don't direct folks individually in the room because that can make people uncomfortable.

State agency folks, do you want to raise your hands? Their job for this portion of the meeting is to listen. So the State's going to be in a listening mode. If you have questions, we won't be answering them at this time, but you can certainly state them for the record.

And hopefully we'll be able to have some good informal conversation around the poster boards as well.

Put your cell phones on do not disturb, on vibrate, do not disturb, so we don't disrupt the meeting as we go.

Also, just to let you know, if you don't want to make the comment publicly in terms of a larger crowd, two possibilities:
You can write your comment down in the box.
There's plenty of comment forms on the table.

And Janet is also in the back.

You can also go talk to her and she can take your comment directly there individually, if

1 you're less comfortable talking in front of a larger crowd. 2 3 I think that covers everything. So if I can get a show of hands for how many 4 5 people want to make a public comment, just so I can see how many folks want to make a 6 7 statement for the record. One -- two. One 8 gentleman here. We can get started with you. 9 So just name, spell your name for the record. 10 11 MR. GLENN RIVARD: Thank you. Мy name is Glenn Rivard. 12 13 I wrote mine out so I'll just read it. 14 15 I would like to express my support of the pipeline expansion project by 16 17 Enbridge Energy. 18 As a landowner with pipeline 19 easements and a business in the county of Marshall, I experience first hand the economic 20 impact the pipelines have on our communities. 21 Here are some assets that come to 22 23 mind as I reflect on the 40-plus years that 24 I've been in business in the area.

Property taxes paid:

pipeline that goes through Marshall County contributes over a million dollars per year for the county alone, plus school districts that happen to have pipeline access.

Since these easements are based on value of product flowing through our county, it is quite obvious an additional pipe will add to the volume of product and henceforth additional revenue for our governments or at least sustain the present levels should older lines become obsolete, which is part of the this project.

Economics of low cost energy:

And I believe that low cost energy is by transferring the stuff as economically as possible to where it has to be consumed or processed.

Agricultural-based economy relies on a high input of energy to produce, process and transport our production to market.

The 500 horsepower tractors and combines that till and harvest our fields will not be replaced in the near future by the alternative energy, but is fueled by what flows through those pipes to refineries and back here to our producers.

When you consider the transportation site of agriculture, we only need to look back three years to see how much our area was affected by the baseless change by shippers when the railroad converted many trains to hauling crude oil from the Bakken and raised their freight rates to the shippers by over a dollar per hundred weight.

The basis change equates to 40 cents per bushel on wheat, $24 per acre on average county yield of 60 bushels. The basis change equates to 95 cents per bushel on soybeans at $33.25 per acre on average county yield of 35 bushels.

Many of you are producers in here and will probably agree with that.

Corn, 50 cents per bushel on corn, $62.50 per acre on average county yield of 125 bushels.

Total impact on Marshall County alone was a loss of revenue in excess of $16.7 million per year according to 2012 acreage census. That's the only one I could find on the Internet this morning.

1 Our country, state, and county have succeeded in part by having access to low 2 cost energy to compete with the world economy. 3 We must not give up that competitive edge. 4 5 Another point I'd like to bring up is safety. My business is located across 6 the street where a train derailment took place 7 8 back in the 1980s. 9 I still remember how the building shook when one of the rail cars hauling grain 10 11 hit the Farmers Coop elevator. Had that been tanker cars similar to those that exploded near 12 Casselton three and a half years ago, the 13 elevator and possibly my business and all who 14 15 were at work would have perished. I still have memories of that day 16 each time I am the lead car waiting near the 17 18 tracks as the train passes by. 19 We were told the cold winter day caused the rail to crack under stress. 20 21 I know there are hazards in all 22 energy transportation, but keeping it below 23 ground just makes me feel safer.

assessing the impact of Enbridge's proposal.

Please consider these assets when

1	Our communities are depending on it. Thank
2	you.
3	FACILITATOR: Is there anyone
4	else who would like to make a public comment
5	this morning?
6	People certainly can do written
7	comments in the boxes and you can also talk to
8	Janet directly if you want.
9	Anyone else at this time who
10	wants to make a public comment?
11	Okay, state your name and spell
12	it for the record and keep the mic kind of
13	like this and talk right into the top of it.
14	MS. JOYCE JOHNSON: My name is
15	Joyce Johnson. I'm from Viking, Minnesota. My
16	husband's name is Willis.
17	The pipeline has crossed our land
18	for I can't even tell you how many years.
19	It must be 20 to 30 years. There was a break
20	in the land, in the pipeline.
21	One of our neighbors punctured it
22	with a Catepillar somehow.
23	Anyway, the pipeline came over to
24	our house, asked us to evacuate, put us up in a
25	motel that night. They were very, very good to us. I appreciated their help. We were able to go home the next day.

They've always been very polite to us. We always know when they're crossing our land. We always know when they're going to mow or whatever they're going to do. If they're just checking, they always let us know. We're very pleased with the pipeline.

FACILITATOR: Others who would like to make public comment? We've got the posters around, we've got state staff people. You may want to gather informally and chat.

In 30, 45 minutes we'll make one more call, one more chance, in case people do want to make a public comment and we can provide one more time while we're here.

If people want to mingle informally -- you can write stuff down.

Again, Janet is in the back for public comment.

Again, we'll come back in about a half hour, 45 minutes, in case anybody else does want to make a public comment to everyone here before we close.

Thank you all for coming.

(Proceedings recessed.) 1 2 FACILITATOR: All right, I just 3 want to give folks another chance, if you would like to make a public comment. So I just want 4 to check to see if anybody wants to raise their 5 6 hand and go on record in this setting to make a 7 public comment. Again, if not, there are written 8 9 comments in the comment box. Janet remains in the back. 10 11 Anybody else? Okay, we'll be around here. We'll be here for a bit. 12 So thanks very much. 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20
